EMIGRATIN IN NUMBERS AND MAPS

All emigrants from the book captured

- All emigrants listed in the book „Die Auswanderung auf den Härten“ written by Dr. Walter Schmid have been extracted from the church records including their parents and grand parents and connected to existing stored people.
- The emigrants have been published on Ancestry.com/Rootsweb.com and can be found there
- If a contact is made I regularly trade information about the descendants of the emigrant against the ancestry information
- Partially I can connect them to relatives either in Germany or in the countries the emigrants have settled

Reasons for emigration

- Economic (poor family situation or the city has paid the ticket)
- Avoid military service
- Avoid arrest (trouble with the police)
- Interesting incentives by acquisitions
 - Ticket have to be paid by work – alternative way of slavery
 - Offer of land (e.g. Romania, Bessarabia) for settlement purposes or reclamation of land

Period of the emigration

- Start: 1752
- Main period: 1830 – 1850
- Stop: 1906

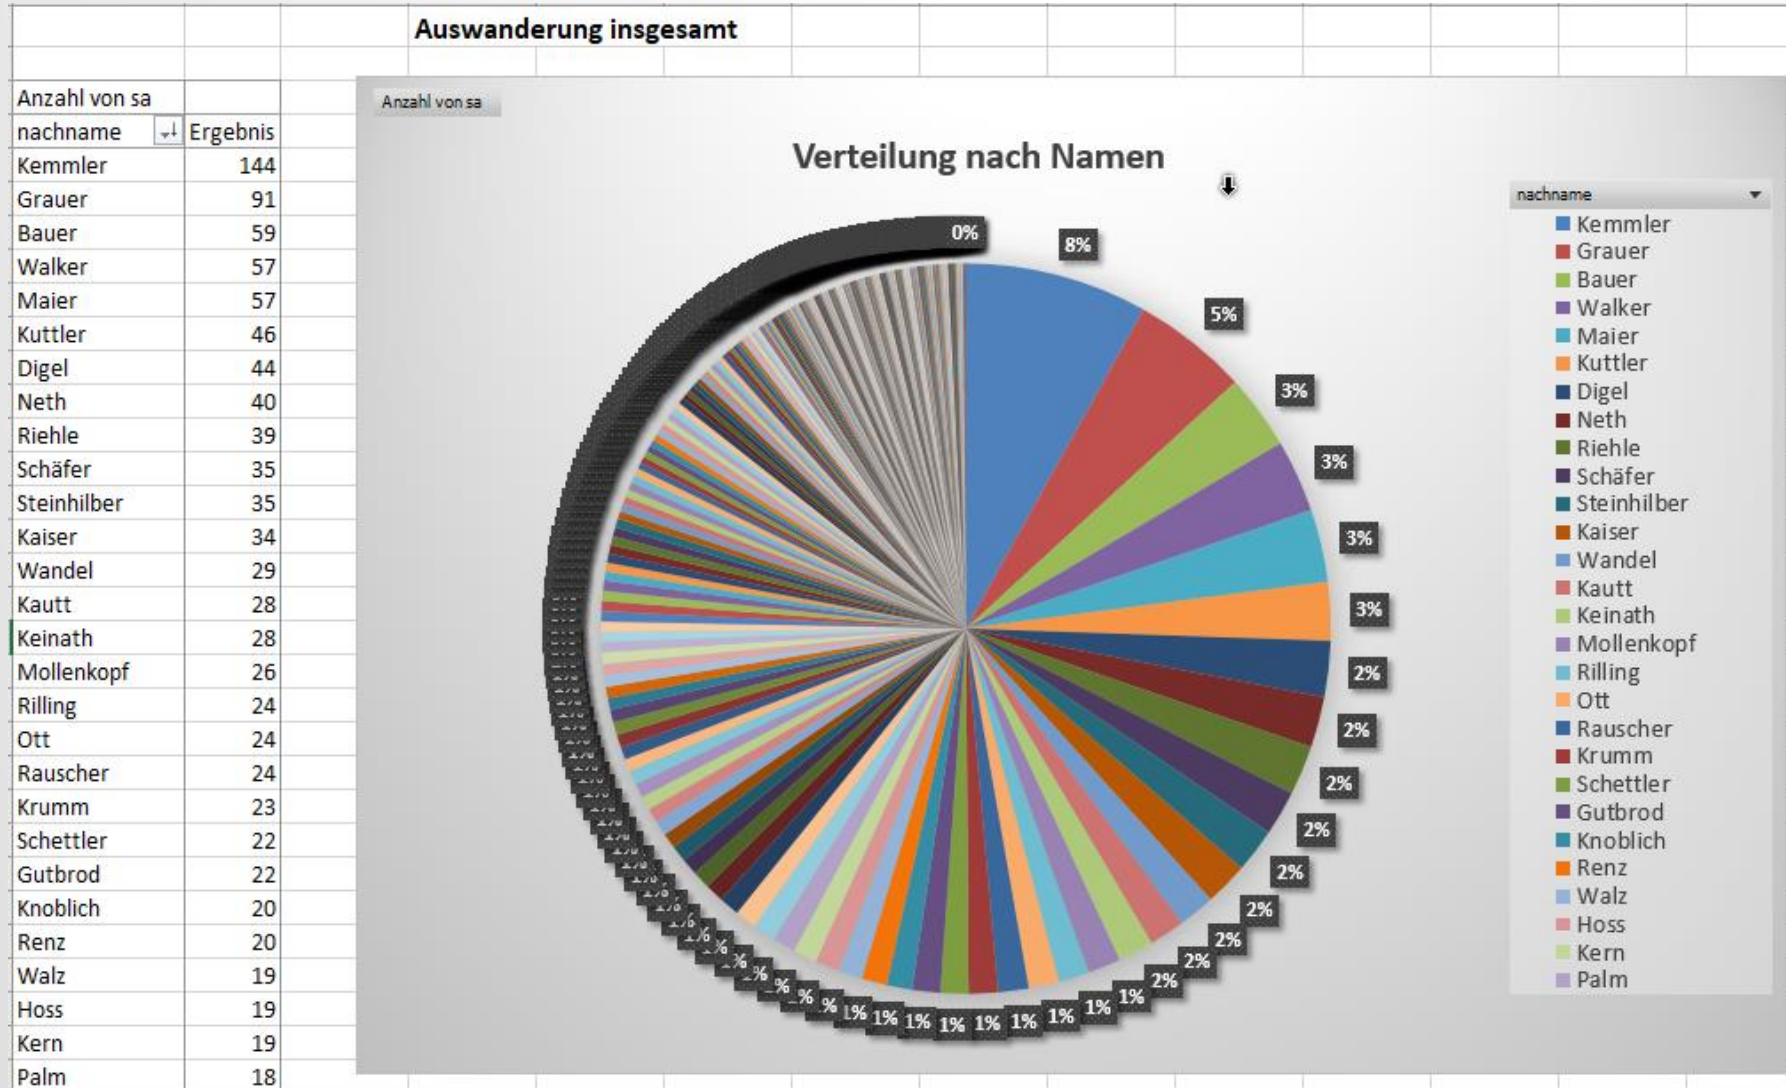

How were the starting conditions?

- Only a few emigrants stayed in the cities. The majority tried to start first with relatives or friends and then to purchase their own land
- The purchase of land very often meant that the land had first to be reclaimed
- With economic success more land was purchased (regularly more west)
- As a rule you can say: Later meant more west. High concentration of settlements in Ohio and Indiana and around the Great Lakes

SPECIALS IN MAEHRINGEN

The church bells of St. Stephan

- When we had been on the bell tower in 2001 just at the moment the bells were ringing for 11:00 am Jackie was extremely quite when we were back down in the church
- When I asked her whether she was ok, she answered. „Yes but I‘m completely overwhelmed by my feelings. It means so much to me to hear the same bells my ancestors have heard and stay in the same church as they did.
- She was right. Two of these bells are ringing for centureis. They determined the start and the end of the day and they called for lunch, when people hat been on the fields

The church bells of St. Stephan

- This is the oldest church bell in the county. She was made in the first half of the 13. century by an unknown bell founder
- The inscription reads:
lvcas macvs mathevs iohannes

- This bell was made in the 15th century by Hans Eger from Reutlingen. It is likely that she was produced after the end of the hostilities between Hans v. Rechberg and some Swabian Cities where also Maehringen was affected
- The inscription reads::
S LVCAS S MARCVS S MATHEVS S IOHANNES

The Oberreuther monument

This monument of love was erected by Johann Friedrich Oberreuther on the grave of his wife Anna Maria Grauer
The inscription reads::

Denkhmahl der aufrichtigen Liebe bey dem Grabe seine Im 41 Jährig. Ehestand treu gewesene Ehegattin, weyl.
